Monthly Commentary March 31, 2009

[Apr 7, 2009]—During the third month of 2009, the Class F units outperformed the S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index by 1.07% and by 3.42% in the past 12 months.

The Canadian economy lost another 82,600 jobs in February versus an expectation of only 52,500 jobs. The unemployment rate is now the highest in the last 6 years at 7.7%. In spite of the negative news, March is the first uptick after six straight months of decline while inflation showed a little improvement as the CPI increased by 1.4% year over year.

The TSX Composite closed the month at 8,720 and, with respect to the commodities (oil, gas, gold, silver, and copper), only oil appreciated for the month. March also saw the Canadian dollar rise 0.8% against the US dollar.
